

Czech School of California

The Czech School of California Offers Unparalleled Classes in Czech and Czech Literature, History, Geography and Culture, to Students of All Ages and Levels

About Us

The Czech School of California launched its first chapter in Palo Alto in September 2012. Students of all ages from all over the Bay Area flocked to the School to take advantage of the School's comprehensive curriculum, which encompasses not just the Czech language, but also Czech literature, history, geography and culture. During its first semester, student enrollment surpassed all expectations and the School quickly became the largest Czech school outside of the Czech Republic. Taught by a team of teachers with Czech credentials, the goal of the School is to preserve the Czech language and culture among Czechs, Slovaks and Americans living in the Bay Area.

TWO NEW LOCATIONS ADDED – SPRING 2013

San Francisco and East Bay

Due to an overwhelming demand, The Czech School of California is currently planning on expanding and offering classes in San Francisco and the East Bay (in Lafayette), starting with a spring 2013 trimester (which will last from March until May). In September 2013, classes will be resume for standard semesters. We are still in the process of securing classrooms in both locations, but are anticipating that we will have both adult and elementary school level classes at both locations on Saturday mornings.

CSC is operated under the patronage of the Czech school without borders, and is supported by the Czech Consulate in Los Angeles, the Honorary Consul General in San Francisco and private sponsors including American Sokol and Kerio.
